THAW ALLOWS CLEANING OF THE CITY'S STREETS
Laborers were busy Thursday in cleaning off the streets of the downtown district, made possible by the thaw. A large amount of filth had collected beneath the snow and ice.

Last winter it was impossible to clean the streets from the first of December until about the first of April, no sufficient thaw coming in that time. As a result the pavement was covered by a thick layer of mud which required several days' labor to remove.

The following account from the Kirkwood Tablet, will be of interest to the many friends of Orlando Johnson of this city, who is teacher of manual training in the public schools, at that city.

"In a few months Kirkwood will be the home of more fine mechanics and first-class cooks than any place of its size in the State unless a great change takes place in the interest manifested in the Manual Training and Domestic Science departments of the public schools by the pupils attending."
